

Group Live Calls Quickie Set Up

What is it?

This where you facilitate an online seminar, presentation or talk for your Sooper Dooper Focus.

You can conduct the seminar on Zoom, Google Meet or Skype. I find Zoom the most professional setup for the calls, as you can see all the participants and it has additional features like a toggle between screen share and gallery view.

For people to attend they must sign up in some way, it's not a Facebook live. You can use Facebook live to invite people, but you want to have people on the call.

A meeting format is preferred to a webinar format at this stage.

The purpose is to connect, get to know the members with the call to action being a one-to-one consultation call.

The title and content of the presentation, talk or mini-seminar are aligned to the main problem, pain and prayer of your tribe. It's best to begin with only one.

When should we use it?

Group live calls are great to introduce your work to a group of people, and get them to book a discovery or consultation call. It's more efficient than one-to-one calls but less personal than one-to-one calls.

What are its pros and cons?

Pros: Easy, effective, fast, non-technical, free, immediate results, personable.

Cons: Requires consistent effort every day. If your message is weak, it will be hard to use.

How to set up group live calls?

1. Message to attract people

The foremost step is to message people to attract them. The message could be any of it:

- Formal invitation message.
- Tips or life stories message with a headline, body copy and call to action.
- A video or Facebook or Instagram live with what's in it for them, problem, solution and call to action.
- You pitch as a video with call to action for complimentary group live calls.
- An Email campaign or WhatsApp campaign to your database.

Here is an example of a formal invitation message.

How I overcame Cancer with The Journey

Emotional Well-being, Personal Development & Spiritual Growth Seminars & Trainings with International Certification

 "As I sat in my red ford car, looking at the view of the pristine turquoise Florida coastline, I received the news of being diagnosed with cancer.

As the news sunk in, while my head was still reeling from it, I also had a gut inner feeling knowing that surgery and chemotherapy were not for me and there was another way.

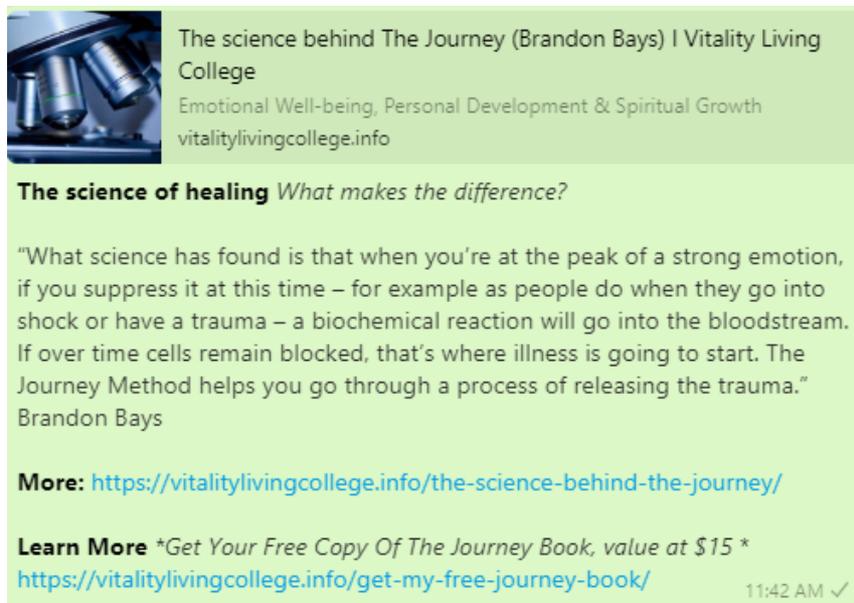

I just did not know what the other way was. Or how I would find it.

It was a year later that I found The Journey Book which had a step by step formula to heal from within.

I used the process work on myself to become cancer free." _ Dr Rangana Rupavi Choudhuri

The science of healing What makes the difference?

"What science has found is that when you're at the peak of a strong emotion, if you suppress it at this time – for example as people do when they go into shock or have a trauma – a biochemical reaction will go into the bloodstream. If over time cells remain blocked, that's where illness is going to start. The Journey Method helps you go through a process of releasing the trauma."

2. Practice with 5-10 people in a one-to-one setting before moving to a group.
3. Have information about group live call ready, so that they can book.
  - If using zoom, you can send them a zoom registration link.
  - You can ask them to provide you their details such as name, phone & email. For the reply, send them the date, time and live call link.
  - You can ask them to join a WhatsApp group where only admins can post. You can announce details of the call closer to the time.
  - You can create a Facebook group where you can get the ones interested to join and start connecting with them.

4. Have a good internet connection.

5. Do a test call.

6. Use the presentation template format.

7. If you can record the call, do so for your learning and development.

- When starting off, I do not recommend sending recording, as the benefit is to have people on a live call.
- If someone sends you a message and says that they missed it, you can send them a recording which expires in 48 hours or ask them when are they going to watch it. You can send them the link then and connect with them after, in case they have questions.
- It's better for them to come on the next live call.

8. Have the application or intake form ready for the next steps.

What's the process & workflow?

In summary, the process & workflow is:

1. Awareness Message to let your tribe know about the group live call. it can be in any of the forms:

- Tips or life story
- DM or social media post
- Direct invitation

2. Confirmation Message to confirm their place on the group live call. The confirmation message can be sent by:

- WhatsApp/ Facebook group
- Send link in DM

3. Live video call

During the live video call, you should be ready with:

- Soul presentation template
- Soul mini-seminar script

Practice the call one-to-one before going in a group setting.

4. Keep the application or intake form ready to be sent out at the end of the group live call. The application or intake form can be sent by any of the following methods:

- WhatsApp message
- Email
- Google form
- Calendly link

soul to soul

business & marketing

5. Once they send the intake form and all is in order, go ahead and book the consultation call in the diary. Once the call is finished there are 3 options:

- Yes
- No
- Maybe

If they say yes, send them the program confirmation message. If they say no, add them to nurture.
